Across Continent On to the Orient

With reference to people who visit Carmel and go away, the saying that "they all come back" is exemplified in the case of Miss Mildred Taylor, who was here some years ago. Miss Taylor, with her brother, Peter Taylor, radio bug of the highest degree, and Blanding Sloan, artist, spent most of last week here.

In a Star car this trio left New York four months ago with the blessing of the mayor of that city and a letter to the mayors of other cities through which they would pass on their journey to San Francisco, the first leg of a trip around the world.

They will spend a great deal of time in China, Japan and Korea, studying the essence of oriental life. This feature of their travels has been termed by Professor Hodges of the oriental division of New York university as "a venture in international friendship." Such information as they gather will be published in American newspapers and magazines.

These three vagabonds each have a definite work, yet the individual subjects and talents in which they specialize dovetail splendidly.

Mildred Taylor is a college woman, a graduate of Syracuse University. She is known as a writer and speaker on suffrage and art subjects, and is an expert photographer. Peter Taylor, her brother, is a consulting engineer in radio, having established PWX station in Havana, Cuba. He will make a flash-light of radio conditions in this country and will study possibilities of its wider extension in the oriental countries. His portable radio is mounted on sponge rubber on the Star car and has thus far shown no ill effects from the vibration of the car.

Blanding Sloan is art director of the Earl Carroll theatre in New York. He will observe the theatre movement in this country and in the orient. Sloan it was who established the first successful Little Theatre, "The Players' Workshop," in Chicago, and is recognized as one of the foremost scenic artists of America.

While here the party's balloon silk tent was erected near the residence of the Dick Johnsons. It was a happy circumstance that Mrs. Rhoda Johnson and Blanding Sloan were born in the same town, Corsica, Texas. So they were among friends.

Prize Contest for Designs

Carmel artists and California artists generally will be interested in a prize competition just announced by the Retail Furniture Association of California in which three cash awards are offered for the best design for an official emblem typifying the business of the industry and expressing the ideal of Better Homes.

The contest is open to professional commercial artists as well as students of art schools and colleges are invited to participate.

A first prize of $100.00 is offered for the best design submitted, and second and third prizes of $50 and $25. The contest closes October 20. Information blanks may be obtained from the Retail Furniture Association of California, 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco.

In deciding to make the emblem one of general competition it was the idea of the association to arouse attention in a wide way among the schools and colleges generally where courses are conducted, and it is hoped that a large number of designs will be submitted.

The winning designs will be announced at the general convention of the Association, which is to be held at Sacramento, October 25, 26 and 27.

Worthington Party Carries Off Honors in Recent Eclipse

By James Worthington, M.A., F.R.A.S.

Preparations for this expedition were begun in December 1922 when possible sites in the Concepcion region and at Hueneme were visited. After consultation with Dr. Anderson of Mt. Wilson it was proposed to go to Point Concepcion. The winter was occupied in designing and experimenting with cameras. In April Mr. Worthington went to England to collect and overhaul more instruments which were shipped to California in June. During July and August seven cameras were built and tested. The lenses of these instruments were supplied by the Hare Harkins Optical Company of Monterey. On August 25, after many trials, these new instruments were successfully rehearsed and good photographs were obtained of the partial eclipse of the moon. In this preparatory work Mr. Lewis Josselyn gave invaluable assistance. Earlier that week Dr. A. E. Burton and Mr. Worthington went on reconnaissance in view of the prevalence of fog.

Coast it was finally decided to locate the expedition at Lompoc, 13 miles north of Concepcion and 10 miles inland. Permission was obtained from Mr. Ben Grossi of Lompoc to set up instruments in his meadow. Dr. Burton and Mr. Worthington returned from Carmel to Lompoc on August 28, having twelve days in which to erect the instruments and rehearse the program. On September 5 Winsor Josselyn of Stanford University arrived from Carmel. On September 8, Russell White, graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and now of San Francisco, also joined the party. On the morning of the eclipse Drs. Herman A. Spoehr, John McGee and Arthur Locke, of the Carnegie Laboratory at Carmel, arrived. The two former operated cameras during totality, while Dr. Locke called the minutes before totality from the chronometer. In order to minimize the chances of failure it was decided to send out scouts to other points, armed with handy cameras of 20 inches focus.

During the total phase the seconds were counted by means of a gramophone record specially made for the expedition by Prof. C. C. Gregory of University College, London. This novel method of time signalling was entirely satisfactory, the voice being clearly heard by all the observers. Totality ended on the count 24 of the third minute instead of 25 as computed. In all, two dozen successful pictures of the corona were obtained, supplying a complete photographic record of the sun's envelopes from the red flames of the chromosphere to the outer wings of the corona two million miles from his surface. Of the scouts, Henry Williams and Ira Remsen brought back four excellent photos from a point about four miles southwest of the main station, and Professor S. D. Thacher was even more fortunate, 10 miles north at Harris, where, during the ninety seconds of totality which he observed, he obtained two photographs showing the coronal extensions nearly three diameters from the sun's edge. Thomas Bickle, who took a camera to San Diego, being threatened by fog at the earth's surface, went up in a plane over three thousand feet, and obtained some interesting snapshots with a small kodak. The motion of the plane made it unreasonable for him to attempt photography with his 20-inch focus instrument.

The final equipment of the expedition consisted of eleven cameras and a three-mirror telescope driven by clockwork, which cast fixed beams into three cameras with which time exposures up to thirty seconds were successfully made. The best photographs of the inner corona and prominences were made with a novel instrument consisting simply of a spectacle lens of one and a half inches diameter and 103 inches focus, specially figured by Mr. Marden of Monterey, and costing the unusual sum of one dollar. The beautiful work of this and other cameras of similar construction will shortly be published as it constitutes a new departure in astronomical photography.

A preliminary report of the results of the expedition was given by Mr. Worthington at the invitation of Dr. W. W. Campbell to the American Association for the Advancement of Science at a general meeting held in the Boulevard Theatre, University of Southern California, on September 19.

The fact that clouds prevented the work of the expeditions, from Lick at Ensenada, from Mt. Wilson at Pt. Loma, and from the University of Chicago at Catalina, has added greatly to the importance of Carmel's contribution. We were fortunate not only in our weather but in our location, being further west than any other observers and so securing the first photographs. When Lompoc plates in comparison with those taken later in the day by Prof. Miller of Swathmore, in Central Mexico, may enable changes in the corona to be detected, during the time which the moon's shadow took to traverse the intervening distance.

The leader of the Carmel party in making this report wishes to take the opportunity to thank everyone, named or unnamed, who assisted in what has proved to be the only successful eclipse expedition in California.

City Affairs Before Trustees

The main event of the regular monthly meeting of the city trustees was the report of light and water commissioner Helen W. Parkes, with particular reference to the Eighty-acre tract. She stated that delay in the installation in that section was due to shortage of pipe. C. S. Olm of the water company announces that pipe and hydrants will soon be on the ground. Two hydrants will be put in at the west end of Santa Lucia. Also there is promise of better service for domestic and fire protection purposes in north Carmel. A new pumping station is to be erected in the south end of town, affording service at any hour, day or night.

Other matters before the meeting, which was presided over by Trustee Perry Newberry in the absence of Mayor W. T. Kibbler, were:

Arrangements have been made with the water company by which Ocean avenue and other streets may be washed down.

The city attorney was directed to prepare two ordinances—one relating to building zones, the other known as the "set-in" ordinance.

Marshal August England was given a vacation—October 8 to 12 inclusive. Fire Chief J. E. Nichols rendered a verbal routine report.

No action was taken on the business license ordinance requested by the Chamber of Commerce months ago.

Trustee Helen Parkes suggested an amendment to the ordinance regulating the cutting down of trees on the streets. No action.

Philip Wilson addressed the board concerning the diseased condition of our pine trees, something should be done for protection. Referred to city planning commission.

Adjourned to next Tuesday evening.

Old Carmelite Visits Highlands

An old Carmelite, a very old Carmelite—not old in years, but old in residence—journeyed down to Carmel Highlands a few days ago.

He had not contemplated the little trip. Five minutes after Mr. Devendorf's invitation had been extended, he was on his way. The old Carmelite had not visited what we used to call "The Ranch" for, lo, many a moon.

What a change greeted him! The very landscape was new. They drove over miles and miles of excellent new roads, across canyons, up and down hillocks, within sound of babbling brooks, and forests of sweet-smelling pines and age-old oaks and scarlet manzanita.

These and many other of nature's beauties are the setting for more than half of a hundred unique and attractive homes, some of them of wood, some of stone.

Surely the place has grown. If memory serves correctly, in 1918 there were but five homes and the inn there. At the rate building is going on and contemplated, in a very few years building will outstrip a premium.

Now it is luncheon time, and our traveler is whisked to the Inn. This way to the dining room is interrupted—he must meet Miss Ella Shaw and Mr. E. H. Tickle and Mrs. Tickle, who are the ladies and lord of the manor, with a greeting to all who come their way.

Luncheon over, but no rest for the weary. "Come now," says Mr. Devendorf, "I want to show you these wonderful places by the water." And they wind their way in and out among the rocks, down near where the surf booms and the white caps frolic, and where the sea is a beautiful jade green. When sunset comes they are ready for home. It has been a glorious day abroad.

Only one regret for old-timer—Thomas Shrewsbury Parkhurst was not there to hand over the keys to this world's paradise, as was always his custom and his joy.

Small Sewer May Cause Large Trouble

Just as there is a world series and a "little" world series in baseball, Carmel has a sewer problem and a "little" sewer problem. There is a controversy on concerning the sewer laid along Dolores street. Is it a private sewer, owned by T. F. Oakes, obliging property owners to pay him to connect, or is it the city's sewer, permitting connection without charge. The matter will probably result in court action.

Blue Bird Tea Room Has New Owner

The Blue Bird Tea Room on Ocean avenue has again changed hands. The new proprietor is Mrs. E. A. Dickenson of Monterey, who took charge of the property last Monday.

For the past six months the establishment has been owned and operated by Mrs. M. B. Crawford, assisted by Miss Pearl Dawson. The former has gone to southern California, and the latter will spend the winter in San Francisco.

Arts and Crafts Will Produce Chinese Play

One of the many plays submitted last year in The Forest Theater's play competition, Thrice Promised Bride, will be produced here this winter. It is a Chinese play, written by a Chinese student, and was published recently in the Theater Arts Magazine. Rights of production have been secured by the Arts and Crafts Little Theater.

Relief Sought by Legal Action

A suit to quiet title, in which $10,000 damages is demanded for an alleged false claim, has been commenced in superior court in Salinas. The property involved is lot 13, block 75, on Dolores street, between Ocean and Seventh. Earl Parkes and his wife are the plaintiffs. T. W. Morgan, Jr., is the defendant.

The Parkes complaint charges that last July 28, Morgan filed a "protest and notice of claim" in the office of the county recorder in which he set forth an interest in the property as well as alleged that defendants obtained a deed to it in March, 1922, from Mrs. Frances Adney by reason of fraud and misrepresentation.

This was the day after Mr. and Mrs. Parkes had endeavored to secure a $5000 loan on the property from the First National Bank of Monterey. The plaintiffs set forth that when the bank learned of the "protest and notice of claim," it refused to accept the property, valued at $16,000, as security.

The complaint denies the "fraud and misrepresentation" charge, prays for a decree quieting title, and demands damages in the above sum.

PINE NEEDLES

A. J. Hammond and family of Massachusetts are here, in the Schreff cottage, for nine months. Mr. Hammond is a well-known landscape artist, who was here in 1915.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Doulton, who have spent most of the summer here, have returned to their home in the South. They have an attractive place at Montecito, just out of Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Edith Bartlett is away on a trip which she will be absent nearly a month. She went first to San Francisco, from whence she and friends will visit in Northern California, proceeding later to San Diego and then home by water.

Carmel, Pebble Beach and the Seventeen-mile Drive scenes were photographed by a group of Ince studio men several days this week. The men from Hollywood were F. W. Ball, Fred Richter, Newry Sharpe, Frank Cox and R. A. Boswell.

For the next six months the De

Angulo residence, down at the end of Eighth avenue, will be occupied by Professor Leonard Baker and family of Berkeley. Doctor Baker is of the University of California English department, and this is his sabbatical year.

The new automobile service station at Sixth and San Carlos is beginning to assume form. Also the cottage nearby, which B. W. Adams, the manager, is to occupy.

Carmel

By Miriam Westermann

O Carmel! I have never seen
A lady who was more a queen
In garments that she chose to wear.
The Spanish lace work of thy pines
Where every star a jewel shines,
The seven veils of fog that float
Over thy hills. Thy wondrous throat
That sings a song of wind and sea,
No siren e'er outvalued thee.
And oh, the fragrance of the air
Thy perfumed breath is everywhere.
Never a nun to dwell alone
In dreary robe of monotone.

Mrs. Martha Newcomb entertained recently with a social tea at her home in Pebble Beach. Among the Carmel guests were Mrs. Robert W. Ritchie, Miss Katharine Cooke, Mrs. James Hopper, Mrs. Perry Newberry, Mrs. H. P. Glassell.

Prof. William Carey Jones passed away in Pekin, China, last Monday. For years and years the Jones family together with that of Prof. Alexis F. Lange spent their summer vacations here. Both professors were enthusiastic fishermen.

Johan Hagemeyer, in competition with various photographers in the third annual Emporium prize contest in San Francisco, was awarded second prize for his "Castles of Today." He also won a special $50 prize for the Emporium Building.

Mrs. W. O'H. Martin and her daughter, Miss Anne Martin, former candidate for U. S. Senator from Nevada, have moved into their new home, built by Percy Parkes, on Mission street. Miss Martin has not yet moved up her legal residence in Nevada.

Former county treasurer James Taylor's troubles are not over yet. The board of supervisors have directed the district attorney to start a civil action to recover from Taylor $7632.50, the amount of his shortage, as alleged in a report of public accountant F. E. Wood.

After a lingering illness, extending over several months, Mrs. Ida May Ham, wife of John W. Ham, for some time a resident here with her husband, passed away last Tuesday. She was a native of Canada. The funeral took place on Thursday, attended by a large number of mourners. There was a wealth of floral offerings. Interment was in El Carmelo cemetery, Pacific Grove.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XLII.—IDAHO

THE year 1890 saw the stars in our flag increase from thirty-eight to forty-two, for four states were added to the Union in that year. In 1890 two more states were admitted, the first of which was Idaho, so that during these two years the manufacturer must have been kept busy turning out new flags with the proper number of stars.

Idaho is very mountainous and the name is derived from the Shoshone, Indian word meaning "gem of mountains."

The first white explorers were undoubtedly Lewis and Clark on their memorable trip in 1804-5.

Idaho was a part of Oregon territory, which was jointly occupied by British and Americans until the Treaty of 1846 definitely turned over to the United States the country south of the 49th parallel. In 1863 Idaho was organized as a territory, with an area three times the size of the present state, as it included Montana and part of Wyoming. The next year Montana was set off for a territory by itself, and in 1890 Wyoming was organized so that in 1890 when Idaho was admitted as the forty-third state of the Union, its area was reduced to 83,888 square miles. Even so it ranks as the eleventh state in size.

The rapid settlement of Idaho was due to the discovery of gold, the same cause which so rapidly built up the adjacent states. It was in 1862 that gold was found at Coeur d'Alene in the northern part of the state, and miners immediately flocked to the state in great numbers.

There was serious labor trouble in the Coeur d'Alene section in 1892 and again in 1899, when martial law was established until peace between the miners and mine owners was effected.

Idaho is fifth from the end in the list of states according to population, and accordingly has but four presidential electors. But the state is developing rapidly.

Author a Poor Talker.

Charles II, the wittiest of monarchs, was so charmed with the humor of "Hudibras," that he caused himself to be introduced as a private gentleman to Butler, its author. The witty monarch found the author a very uninteresting companion, and was of the opinion, with many others, that such a stupid fellow could never have written so clever a book.

AN EQUITABLE LAW

When the California gasoline tax became effective on September 30 motorists in this state began paying for the highways in proportion to the kind and amount of use they make of them, according to the California State Automobile Association, which estimates that the two cents per gallon tax together with the $3.00 annual registration fee will bring the state a yearly revenue in excess of eighteen million dollars.

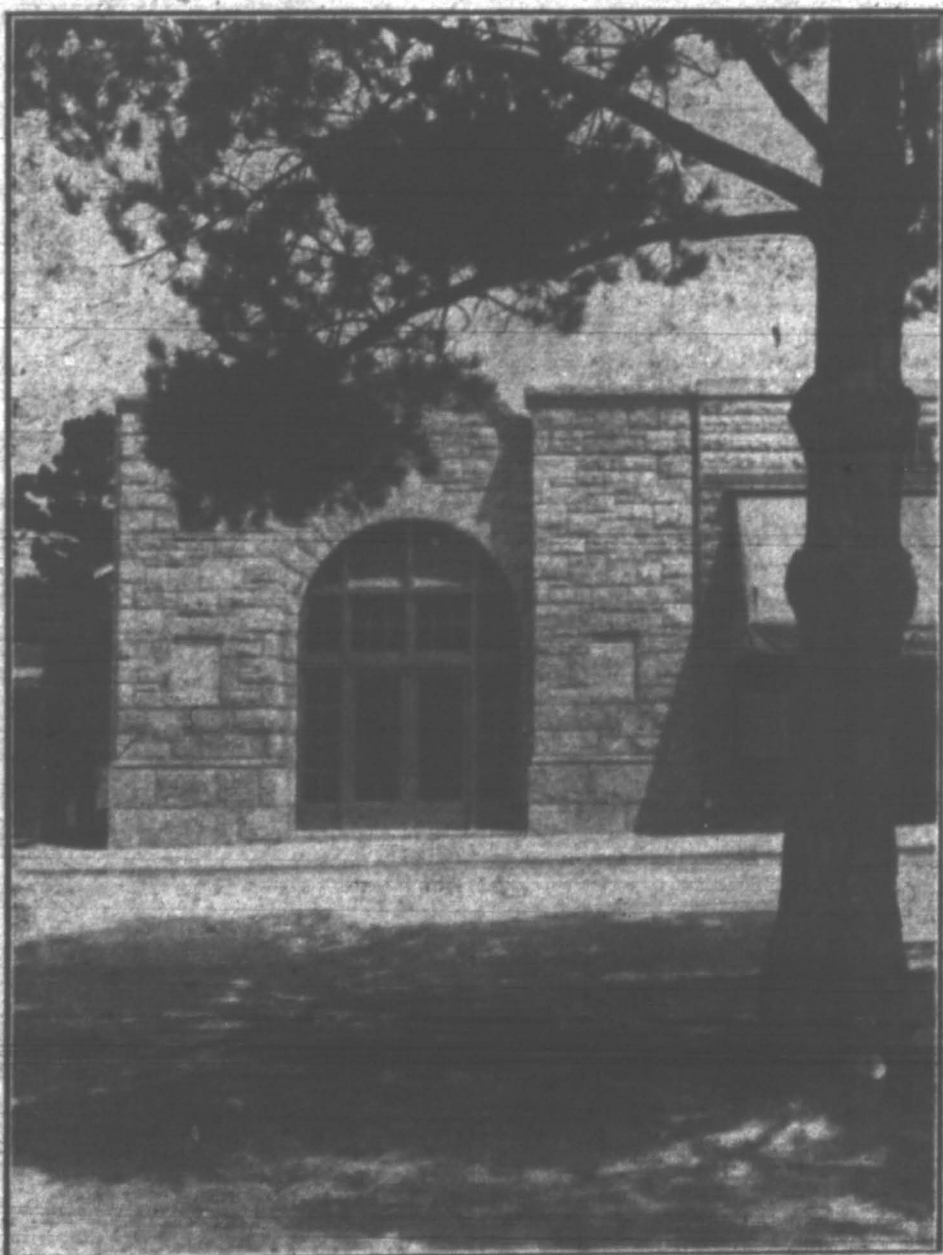

One half of this amount will be used exclusively by the state in maintenance, resurfacing, widening and reconstruction of existing highways. The other half will be divided among the counties of the state where similar improvements in county road system will be made possible. Automobile Association officials who assisted in the work drafting and passing of the gasoline tax bill at the last session of the legislature point out that it is the most equitable method of motor vehicle taxation yet devised. In taxing gasoline consumption the tax in effect meters the use of the highways and roads, much the same as gas, electricity and water are metered.

SMILE: POSITIVE. FROWN: NEGATIVE

In city advancement cheerfulness and cordiality have an important part. Too often people permit business cares and worries to cause them to forget the stranger within the gates and the friend who passes by. Many a man has gained a reputation for grouchiness who merely has not thought to be cordial. A smile carries one much farther than a frown. The visitor in a city is favorably impressed if the people he sees on the streets are cheerful and smiling. He at once gains the impression that the city is a good one to visit.

The visitor naturally thinks that a city which offers welcome in so conspicuous a way means it. If the people he meets smile and are cheerful he at once realizes that they are a people worth while and the town one worth looking over. The cordial greeting with an accompanying smile of welcome, helps more than anything else to give people a good impression of a place. The smile attracts and the frown repels. Grouchiness gains nothing for anyone.

Carmel's Young But Vigorous Financial Emporium Has Attractive Home

Courtesy Peninsula Herald

After having in our midst for two months a bank, the wonder is how Carmel ever got along without it.

The generous support which has been accorded the Bank of Carmel is nothing less than remarkable.

The financial statement, published in last week's Pine Cone, is a document to be proud of. It reflects great credit, not only on the officers of the bank, but also on the people who made such a healthy showing possible.

An Effective Organization

The Goldwyn organization at Hollywood is following the policy of featuring the director of a picture with an all-star cast, and among their directors whose names are famous in the motion picture world are Emmett J. Flynn, George D. Baker, Charles Brabin, Victor Seastrom, who has just come from Europe to direct pictures; King Vidor, Tod Browning, Marshall Neilan, Rupert Hughes and Erich Von Stroheim.

Jane Mathis, who heads the editorial department, is said to be the highest salaried woman in the world. She edits all the scenarios and finds time to write some as well. She is assisted by Carey Wilson and a staff of assistant editors. Among the stars there are Hobart Bosworth, Eleanor Boardman, Frank Mayo, Conrad Nagel, Claire Windsor and Aileen Pringle.

Writer's Dependence on Readers

In her latest book, "The Handling of Words," writes The Villager, "Vernon Lee" ponders the dependence of the literary artist upon his reader. Miss Paget is too gentle a writer with too little of Methodism in her spirit to fling the fact of this dependence before the reader and cry, Think, Sir and Madam, on your neglected duty, your evaded responsibility! Miss Paget merely states the fact of this limitation of writer by reader, offering it as fruit of a long experience in writing and the study of others' writing. "The writer has always," Miss Paget says she has come to conclude, "to draw upon the reader's stored-up experience, and can tell him something he does not yet know only by evoking and rearranging what he already knew"—Christian Science Monitor.

Kreymborg's Work Analyzed

The vogue of puppeteering continues. Carmel has recently on several occasions seen the Kegg-Goldsmith combination. The visit of Alfred Kreymborg here about two years ago with his show of which "Lima Beans" was a part, is recalled by his book, "Puppet Plays," just out. Herbert S. Gorman, in the New York Times, writes as follows:

Mr. Kreymborg's individuality is the direct result of a cast of mind. In a lesser degree it is aided by a series of cultivated mannerisms. "Lima Beans," for instance, is "Lima Beans" because of these mannerisms, and the extreme popularity of this particular piece is the result of the aforesaid placid acceptance of the superficial whimsicalities in his work. It is always easier to dress the cursory reader with one's mannerisms than with one's integral philosophy. This is regrettable in the instance of Mr. Kreymborg, for it tends to an evaluation of his work that does not quite assume the seriousness that is indubitably in it. "Lima Beans" is the "Puppet Plays" is not so much because it is thin and mannered in itself as that it tends to obscure certain qualities in the poet's work. "When the Willow Nods" and "Jack's House" are much better, for the first one approaches more nearly to that state of verbal music which is the poet's own, and in the second we are more conscious of a symbolism applicable to life.

Officials Discuss City Sewer Bonds

The informal joint meeting of the City Trustees, the Carmel Sanitary Board and the City Planning Commission has undoubtedly decided in accordance with the majority of the property owners in the matter of financing the proposed new sewer construction.

It is not by any means certain, however, that the plan endorsed for the work, that is, the 1911 Improvement Act and the 1915 Bond Act, will be finally adopted.

There are still a large number of property owners who maintain that a straight-out bond issue is the cheapest and most equitable way to finance the work. Should this plan be adopted, a bond election would have to be held. The people would then express themselves for or against the proposition. Should it fail to carry, the alternative plan could be adopted.

At any rate, the sewer system is a vital necessity, and must come, under some plan.

The matter has been referred to H. D.

Severance, the city engineer, for a report. He will confer with a committee consisting of City Trustee Perry Newberry, H. W. Askew of the Sanitary Board and Dr. A. E. Burton of the City Planning Commission. This committee started work last Monday morning.

The best interests of the people and of the city are at stake in this matter, and it may be that the present majority, leaning toward the two legislative acts, is not the best plan. We should make haste slowly.

Mrs. Clara Lawler and daughter spent this week with friends in Los Angeles. They motored down.

The week's vacation ended, both the local public school and the high school at Monterey will resume next Monday. Attention is again called to registration week, which begins Monday, October 15.

Recent visitors here from southern California were Mrs. Paddock and her son, Charles Paddock, famous short-distance runner, known as the "fastest human." Some one remarked, "A fast man in a slow town."

Miss Elizabeth White has sold the charming Cotton place, lately owned by Mrs. D. H. Harthorn, to Mrs. S. H. Ford of San Francisco. Mrs. Ford will keep the home for herself and family as a vacation place.

She moved right in and turned around and moved right out again. This reference is to Mrs. Daisy Bostick, who had decided to occupy her recently purchased Church house and moved in. But an opportunity to rent came along, and she had to seek other shelter.

The Castro cottage on Eighth avenue between San Carlos and Mission, has been moved to the hills in east Carmel. The Cochran cottage now on the Murphy property on San Carlos avenue, purchased by C. C. Fisher, has been moved to the Castro lot, fixed up and rented.

Smart Clothes

Words Without Meaning—

For example—The word "Exclusive."

It means nothing unless backed by a product whose name means a whole lot. There are dozens of makes of men's clothing for which we prefer that some other store claim exclusive control in this city. But for Stein-Bloch Smart Clothes we are not only glad but proud to claim exclusive representation.

A variety of models—such as THE SAXON, in patterns that are "exclusive" in the sense that they appeal to the man with discriminating taste.
